Monday, December 1--Sunday, December 8

Greetings!

What a great and wonderful week I had

On Monday, November 24, I went to my first "bus" trip and the first party of the 2008 Holiday Express tour

We all met at the Courtyard Marriot on Half Mile Road in Red Bank around 11:30am
As the bus rolled on, we were served sandwiches and briefed on the plans for the party
Newcomers like myself were given a Holiday Express long-sleeve shirt that is to be worn at all parties.

Everyone had a position and the rest of us became elves.

We were giving our costumes and out we went to dance, sing, and put a smile on everyone (Note: It's not necessary to wear the costume, but the elf hat is required)

OH I must not forget we are all led by Captain Elfis.

The band is excellent and the guests are visited by Frosty, The Grinch, The Disco Santas, Rudolph and of course Mr & Mrs Claus

All these are played by seasoned veterans.

I am somewhat of a shy person, but yet I found myself moving, dancing, clapping and even singing to the fabulous tunes and interacting with the "guests".

It was so delightful to see the "guests" smiling and even getting up and dancing themselves.

On Sunday, I went to my second party of the 2008 HE Tour

This one I drove to. The Rumson Country Day School opened their doors and their hearts for a ho-ho-ho celebration. In attendance where 150 people from places like Ephiphany House, Spring House, and other organizations.

At this one we served food and I didn't have to wear the elf costume. :) There were plenty of young volunteers eagerly ready for that task.

The band was superb as always.

The girls from the Kathryn Barnett School of Dance were there prancing and dancing to the tunes.

There was face painting, tatoos, and more for the kids

Holiday Express needs volunteers for some of their parties Please check my link

I had a fantastic time on Thanksgiving, too

See what I did on the right.

Remember now I never claimed to be a writer.

I think I was sleeping during that class LOL

THANKSGIVING 2008

This year I ventured into a new experience for me
Growing up in a family of six, I was used to the traditional Thanksgiving
The gathering and feasting around the table

As the years passed, we all began our own traditions.

I always felt I had to carry on the tradition within my home.

Being a single parent with only one child, it wasn't easy

Sometimes Thanksgiving was spent at a friend's house

But it didn't feel right. I didn't feel as if I gave anything

My son is grown now with a daughter of his own.

So this year we decided we would go out for brunch.

It was fabulous to be with them.

Afterwards, I went over to the Eatontown Community Center

at 72 Broad Street in Eatontown to lend a hand.

Everyone was in the kitchen, preparing all the food.

I was eagerly invited in. There was an abundance of food to prepare.

Included in the menu was collard greens, that were made by Glynis Robinson, the lovely lady in charge of everything

Glynis runs an organization called Immanuel's Corner

Celebrating it's third year on March 21, 2009 is there for ANYONE and EVERYONE who needs help.

Glynis not only serves on Thanksgiving, but Christmas and Easter as well.

It takes many hands to do all this.

Volunteers are needed for food preparation, serving, and other tasks

If you want to help, please call Glynis to register

If you need help or know someone who needs help,
