Summer is officially here
I believe the end of school was always the sign that summer was officially here
Thursday was my granddaughter's last day
We went to BK with friends to mark the occasion Saturday, I went and sat at the art show at Belmar Boatworks
A simple volunteer task
Just sitting at the table, saying hello, handing out brochures

Friday June 27 3 - 5 PM
Saturday June 28 1 - 3 PM
Sunday June 29 1 - 3 PM & 3 - 5 PM
Please contact Patrice Malone at patrice@belmararts.org
They have future art shows they can also use help with
I will be watching my honey-bunny 2 days a week
Happily the vacation reading club starts on Wednesday, June 25th at Eatontown Library
She loves it
I'm going to get her involved with me and my other volunteer project, I recently got involved in I have become a volunteer monitor with Wreck Pond Watershed Association
When you click on the web site
It lists 3 sites to do volunteer monitoring
Seven President's Park is not mentioned
At Seven President's, there is a roped off area where inside is a "cage" with a piping plover that is nesting
It is the volunteer monitor that helps to protect this bird from predators
The volunteer wears an ID card to gain access on to the beach to do the monitoring
I had an ID card sent to her (wanted her to feel important)
It is simply just sitting for about an hour and keeping an eye
I can get books out of the library about the 3 endangered birds of NJ
Piping Plover
Least Tern
Black Skimmer
Read to her during the time
We'll do this on cooler days
The hot days we'll be at Dorbrook Spray Grounds
