Greetings!

Here we go with the last and final week of November 2008. This week was full of meetings for me. Friday was a personal me day, I went and played Bunco. On Saturday, I drove out to the Manasquan Elementary School and volunteered with over 200 others with Blossom International.

Together, we put together 500 Care Packs for children in foster care. It was a very wonderful experience and soon as the sign-up sheet is up for 2009, I'll be signing up and I urge you to do so. I start on Monday with volunteering with Holiday Express at one of their parties.

Don't forget they still need help. Information can be found on the Volunteer Page which is on the Home Page Link to the right. I've added lots more to do on the Holiday Event Listing. Those events are not included in the list below.
